DECLARATION OF JUDITH C. COLLINGE

Judith C. Collinge, under the pains and penalties of perjury, hereby declares and states:

I am the Controller of Community Television of Southern California (CTSC). In that capacity, I have been involved with CTSC's planning for its proposed television station in Bakersfield, California. As part of that effort, I prepared an operating budget for the station. The costs estimates were based on conversations members of CTSC's Finance Department and CTSC's engineering staff had with various individuals in Bakersfield and others familiar with the area. Based on those conversations and my experience at CTSC, I estimated that the monthly operating expenses of CTSC's station would range between $13,000 and $14,600. Those estimates included: $2,500 for the transmitter space and use of an antenna tower, $1,500 for utilities, and $7,500 for a contract engineer and additional support personnel.
